

Elena

It's showtime again

Some spectacular films will be showcased at Film Harvest 2012

Gita Dutt
 bmfeedback@indiatimes.com

After the stupendous success of the Bangalore International Film Festival that saw swarming crowds and full-house shows in English, Spanish, Hebrew or even Swahili among other languages, it's time for yet another interesting film festival. Film Harvest 2012 is a smaller, limited edition festival that will bring several internationally-acclaimed films to Bangalore. And, what's more, all the films will be screened in the evenings.

Starry nights, international flicks and some great company, what more can you ask for to celebrate the magic of the movies? Non-formula films that veer away from the beaten path are able to find a niche audience and loyal following across the world thanks to festivals and film clubs. Film Harvest is a welcome entrant into a small world of cinema lovers.

Bangalore Mirror will bring you all details of the festival along with exclusive interviews, reviews and synopsis of Film Harvest 2012. All the films will be screened at the amphitheatre in UB.

Timings Date	7.00 pm	8.00 pm	9.00 pm
16th March 2012 Friday	Arrival delegates and guests	Movie scores with orchestra	The Tree of Life Dir: Terrence Malick USA/2011/139'
Timings Date	6.45 pm	8.25 pm	10.00 pm
17 March 2012 Saturday	The Kid With a Bike Dir: Jean-Pierre Dardenne Belgium / France / Italy/2011/87'	Las Acacias Dir.: Pablo Giorgelli Argentina/Spain/2011/82'	Michael Dir.: Markus Schleiner Austria / 2011 / 96'
Timings Date	7.00 pm	9.35 pm
18 March 2012 Sunday	Sh Girish Kasaravalli's film	The Mill & The Cross Dir.: Lech Majewski Poland/Sweden/2011/ 92'
Timings Date	6.45 pm	8.40 pm	10.30 pm
19 March 2012 Monday	Joanna Dir.: Feliks Falk Poland / 2010 / 105'	Elena Dir.: Andrei Zvyagintsev Russia/2011/109	Mourning Dir. Morteza Farshbaf, Iran/2011/84min'
Timings Date	6.45 pm	9.00 pm	10.15 pm
20 March 2012 Tuesday	India is my country Dir.: Sumitra Bhav & Sunil Sukthankar Marathi/2011/116	Pakaranaatam Dir.: Jayaraj Malayalam/2011/95'	